	COOKIE POLICY
SAPIENS

As Sapiens Genetik ve Sağlık Hizmetleri Anonim Şirketi, we use cookies so that you can make the most efficient use of our websites and improve your user experience. If you do not prefer the use of cookies, you can delete or block cookies from your browser settings or from the detailed cookie removal description below. However, we would like to remind you that this may affect your use of our websites. Unless you change your cookie settings in your browser, we will assume that you accept the use of cookies on our websites. You can access the regulations regarding the collected data from the Clarification Text on our websites.

Our cookies are used to provide you with a personalised experience during your use of our websites, to improve our services and to improve your experience.

Cookies can be evaluated under different headings according to their purpose and method of use. Some of these titles are explained below;

Session cookies: They are temporary cookies, they are deleted when you close your browser, so they are not permanent. They are used for purposes such as ensuring the security and continuity of our sites and your visit.

Persistent cookies: They are kept in the subfolders of your browser until you act or until the time interval in the cookie expires. These cookies help our website to remember your information and choices the next time you visit.

First and third party cookies: First party cookies are cookies used by our website. Third party cookies are cookies installed on your computer other than our website.

Mandatory cookies: These are anonymous cookies established in order for https://sapiens.com.tr/ websites to function properly so that their features can be presented properly.

Functional and analytical cookies: Functional cookies are used to remember your preferences and improve your browsing experience, and analytical cookies are used to see which of our pages attract more attention, which resources are viewed more, to see the traffic on our sites and to provide services in accordance with this traffic. Cookies of this nature are also anonymous.

The cookies used by our sites other than the mandatory and first party ones are as follows:

Google: Goole cookies can be used for many purposes. For example, it uses them to remember your secure search preferences, to show you more relevant adverts, to determine how many visitors come to a page, to help you use and register for services offered by Google, to protect your data or to remember your ad settings.

Google Ajax Search API: A web-wide ad personalisation platform. It is used to display personalised ads tailored to users on YouTube and more than 2 million websites that partner with Google to display ads. These cookies are used to collect data about websites and each page that users visit both on and off our website (these may include things like your interests and characteristics). They are generally used to show you adverts that are more relevant to you and your interests and to measure how effective an advertising campaign is. This information is shared with other organisations, such as advertisers and our partners, to be used together with information about how you use other websites and to identify common interests and behaviours of users who visit our (and others') websites.
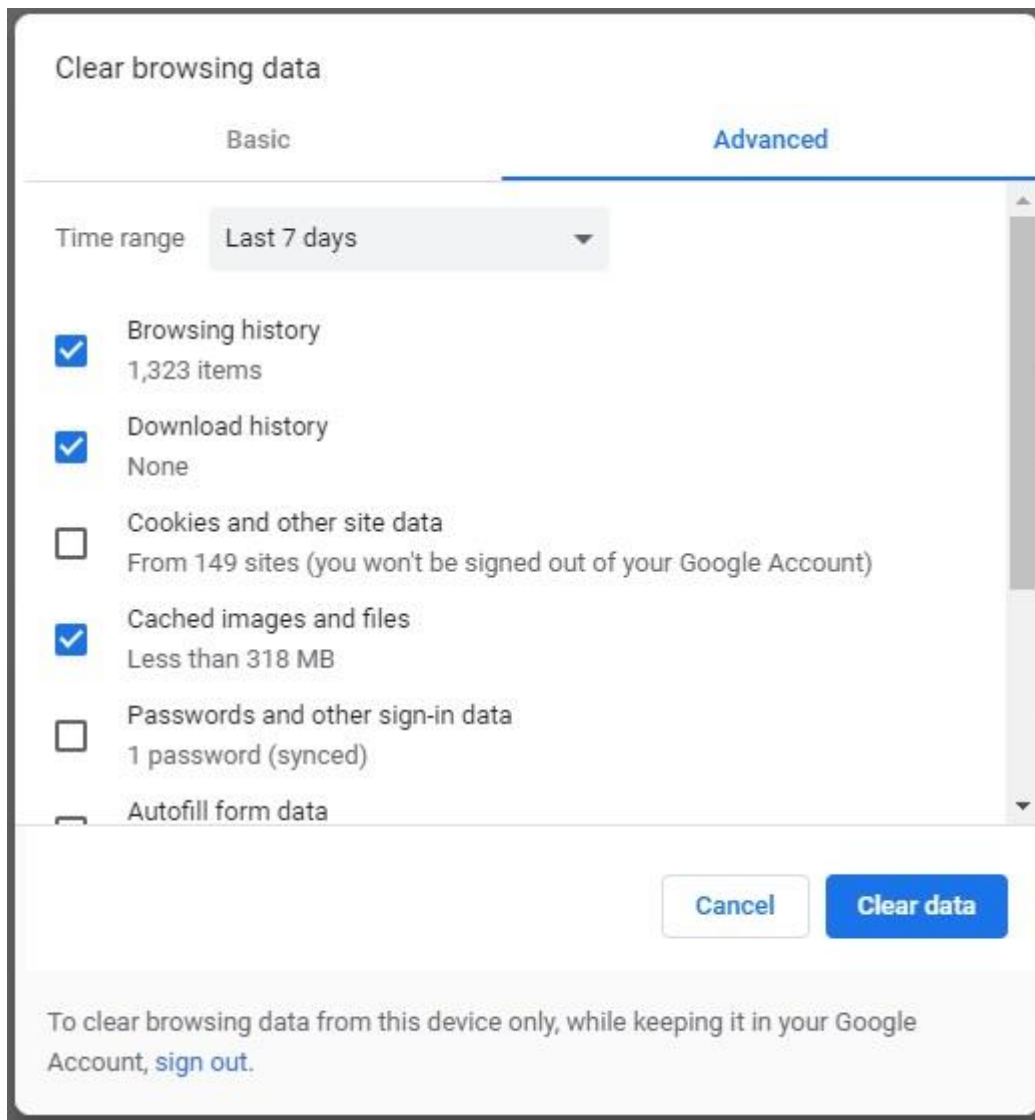

The user can remove persistent cookies and reject both session cookies and persistent cookies by following the instructions given in the "help" file of their internet browsers or by visiting "www.allaboutcookies.org" or "www.youronlinechoices.eu". If the user rejects persistent cookies or session cookies, the user may continue to use the website in question or the mobile web, but may not be able to access all the functions of these media or may have limited access.
